 How to claim: Register or claim via your MyGov account.

The Government has recently made it much easier for you to register for Centrelink. Instead of linking your MyGov account with Centrelink, you will now see an announcement when you login. Follow the steps below.

Step 1 – Select Register intention to claim:

The screenshot shows the myGov website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with 'Home', 'Services', 'Inbox', and 'Account settings', along with a 'Sign out' button. A warning banner indicates that Centrelink, Medicare, and Child Support online accounts are experiencing intermittent issues. The main content area features a 'Good afternoon' greeting and a 'Claiming a Centrelink payment' notification. The notification explains that the fastest way to claim a Centrelink payment is through the online account and provides instructions for users who haven't linked their Centrelink to myGov. A prominent button labeled 'Register intention to claim' is visible. Below the notification, there is a 'Your services' section with five service tiles: Centrelink, Australian JobSearch, Australian Taxation Office, My Health Record, and Medicare.

Step 2 – A preview will be given of your contact details. Please check it's correct before ticking the box and selecting Continue. If your contact details are incorrect, select Account Settings to update your contact details before returning.
